

This is Preventive Medicine

The Future of Preventive Medicine: YOU

As medical students, you are the future of healthcare. Make a difference by preventing disease, disability, and death by promoting health and well-being in patients, communities, and populations. With a career in Preventive Medicine, you can do just that.

Where is Preventive Medicine Practiced?

Hospitals and Health Systems

Research Settings

Academia

Government Agencies

Corporations

Cross Collaboration with Other Health Care Professionals

State & Local Health Departments

Why Choose a Career in Preventive Medicine?

- ✓ Join one of the 24 ABMS-certified specialties
- ✓ Take your clinical expertise to the next level
- ✓ Benefit from limitless opportunities for advancement and growth
- ✓ Shape the future of healthcare
- ✓ Contribute to lowering our nation's health care costs

Competencies & Careers

Epidemiology

Biostatistics

Infectious Disease

Clinical Preventive Medicine & Lifestyle Medicine

Environmental Health

Health Systems Management

Behavioral & Mental Health

"I've always been passionate about global health and Preventive Medicine brings a lot that can enhance health care across communities."

- Dr. Danielle Craigg, MD | Member at ACPM

"I realized patients were coming back in for problems I wasn't able to address during my clinical training. Preventive Medicine makes me believe I'm making a difference."

- Dr. Scott Keel, MD, MPH | Member at ACPM

"Because I felt Preventive Medicine offered a really in-depth look into population health and looked at things from a larger perspective."

- Dr. Tarek Salih, MD, MA, MPH | Member at ACPM

The American College of Preventive Medicine

ACPM equips its members with the knowledge, resources, and networks to build healthier communities and transform the healthcare system.

American College of Preventive Medicine physicians dedicated to prevention

For more information, visit
acpm.org